

WEDDINGS

RODNEY—SIMMONS

A quiet wedding was solemnized on Friday, April 10, when Ruth Madeline, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Simmons, of Conrich, Alberta, was united in marriage with Reuben William Rodney, son of Mrs. Mary Rodney, of Didsbury. The ceremony took place at the Norwegian-Lutheran Church, Calgary, Rev. Mr. Jovaag officiating. Miss Lethia French and Mr. Wilbur Simmons were the attendants. Mr. and Mrs. Rodney will reside on the farm west of town.

Knox United Church Notes.

The service last Sunday was splendidly attended and the Choir is to be congratulated on giving their Easter cantata so excellent a rendition. Entitled "King Triumphant," it was to be expected that it would reach a triumphant climax so far as its musical composition was concerned. But it may be said that the choir entered into the whole story of the Passion, the Resurrection and Ascension of our Lord, set forth by this cantata, with such feeling that it was rendered triumphantly. We are very pleased to announce that the choir will visit Westcott and Westdale with this cantata in the near future.

The sermon topic next Sunday will be, "Easter Inevitable." It is hoped that there will be no difficulty in holding services at Westcott and Westdale and that there will be a large attendance.

The "Y" Girls will meet at the home of Mrs. Tom Morris on Tuesday, April 21 at 8 p.m. Owing to the March meeting being postponed, Miss Parrot will give her health talk at this meeting. Young ladies—you are cordially invited to attend.

LOCAL & GENERAL

Mr. Ralph Hoare is in the hospital in Calgary from a broken ankle.

Mr. Murray Kendrick, of Calgary, spent the holiday at his home here.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Dunlop were visitors in the southern city Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Stark of Calgary visited Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McGhee and family for the holiday.

Miss Evelyn McGhee, who spent several days in Calgary returned home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sick and son, of Innisfail, were the Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. Churchill.

The Pioneer Garage has taken over the agency for the Oliver Ltd. and will handle all kinds of farm machinery.

Mrs. Ranton is representing the Mon's Chapter at the I.O.D.E. convention which is being held in Edmonton this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellwood Evans of Pincher Creek are visiting the former's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Evans.

Mr. Ross Mollatt of Vulcan and Miss Helen Scott of Claresholm, visited with the former's parents here on Sunday.

The Community Hall School Fair annual meeting will be held at the Community Hall on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. If you want a school fair you should attend this meeting.

SOCIAL CREDIT NOTES.

The Pioneer Social Credit Group held a well attended meeting on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Klaholt. The subject studied and discussed was "The Evils of the System," by Owens. Several resolutions were discussed and passed. Next meeting will be held at R. L. Miller's store on Monday, Apr. 20.

The Didsbury Social Credit Group No. 1 held its regular meeting on Monday at the home of Mr. F. Hughes. An explanation was given by Mr. Schwesinger "Why Alberta should balance its budget." The group decided to send a letter of congratulation to the Hon. and Mrs. Ernest Manning on their wedding. It was also decided, following a request from Premier Aberhart, to send suggestions regarding a Social Credit plan to his department. Five new members were registered. Two gentlemen visitors from Vancouver expressed their desire to see the same social credit spirit over there as is displayed in Alberta. After the business session a delicious lunch was served and a lively discussion on various subjects took place. A vote of thanks to the host and hostess brought the meeting to a close. The next meeting will be held on Monday the 20th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Schwesinger, when the topic to be discussed will be, "What Should Be the Just Price for Grain?" Everyone interested is welcome.

Obituary.

JOHN MORTIMER

John Alexander Mortimer passed away at the age of 76 years and 10 months on Sunday morning at the Didsbury Hospital. On Saturday evening he suffered a stroke while in Johnson and McCloy's barber shop and was moved to the hospital.

He was born at Harriston Ont. on June 3 1859 and was married to Hannah E. Sugg at Winterburn on May 4 1887. He was one of the pioneers of the west, coming to Calgary 44 years ago. For 8 years he worked at his trade as a blacksmith at Fish Creek and Calgary.

In 1900 he moved to Didsbury and for five years ranched on the Dog Pound, afterwards moving into town where he resumed his occupation as blacksmith. He continued in business until the outbreak of the Great War when, at the age of 56 he enlisted in the 56th Battalion and went overseas in 1915. For three years he served his country as a farrier instructor in both England and France. After his discharge from the army he worked in Calgary until about 8 years ago, when he retired and returned to Didsbury.

He is survived by his widow, three sons, George at Mirror Alberta, Charles and Clifford at Didsbury; three daughters, Mrs. A. Cluny and Mrs. A. Meikle of Vancouver, and Mrs. Walter Miller of Langdon, also 16 grandchildren and 7 great-grandchildren.

He was predeceased by two daughters, Mrs. Dan Geiger and Violet Jane Mortimer.

The funeral which was in charge of the local branch of the Canadian Legion, of which he was a member, was held at the United Church Rev. J. R. Geeson officiated.

The pall bearers were Messrs. Adshead, Austin, Moyle, Thomas, Craig and Farrant.

C. V. FULLERTON

Carl Vernon Fullerton, aged 45, of Fallen Timber, died suddenly on Thursday morning last. He had been to Elkton and took sick while driving home in the company of William Holt. When he reached home he fell out of the democrat and was carried to the house, but died before medical aid could be obtained. Dr. Clarke, coroner, examined the body, but decided that no inquest was necessary.

Mr. Fullerton, who was a bachelor, was formerly a school teacher in the district and was for several years secretary-treasurer of Fallen Timber School. He is survived by a sister at Vancouver and a brother at Montreal.

The body was shipped to Amherst, N.S., for burial.

$2,000,000 Grant Available for Highways and Roads

Almost $2,000,000 will be available in Alberta for road and highway construction this year as a result of the Dominion plan for allocation to such work of part of the federal $50,000,000 relief fund, it was announced last week by Premier Wm. Aberhart. In addition the Dominion will allow the province grants for main highway construction on a basis of dollar-for-dollar with provincial expenditures.

GOPHER POISON. NOTICE.

The Municipality of Mountain View, No. 310, has arranged with the dealers in gopher poison at Didsbury, Olds and other points, to supply an equal amount of gopher poison to that paid for by the farmers of the municipality, the arrangement to be in effect until the 1st day of June, 1936.

The Council requests that the farmers place their poison early.

School Staff Will Present Comedy

The Didsbury School Staff, assisted by other artists, will present a 3 act comedy farce, "Breach of Promise," at the Opera House on Tuesday evening, April 28.

They presented the play at Carstairs last Wednesday and received very favorable comment. Be sure and keep the date open—April 28.

Olds Hockey Club Will Play Senior Game Next Season

Olds Elks will be represented in the Southern Alberta Hockey League next season, it was decided at the annual meeting of the Club held in the Elks' club rooms on Wednesday night. The meeting, one of the largest and most enthusiastic in the history of Olds hockey, went definitely on record for a continuance of senior hockey, and extensive plans for financing with a view to entering a team worthy of the best senior opposition, were gone into.

Legislators Get Cheques Paid in Coin of Realm.

Nearly $114,000 of "coin of the realm" went into circulation in this province Tuesday as the 63 members of the legislature pocketed their $1,800 indemnity for the session which has just ended. The members were busy drawing their cheques during the day, preparatory to doing some last minute shopping and departing for their homes.

Why Not a Holiday?

"Get away from your work and take a holiday" is a prescription frequently handed out by members of the medical profession to the jaded city office worker. The advice is usually based on the prediction that the eternal grind of routine work day in and day out, week after week and month after month has impaired the nerves and that change of scenery and new activities is all that is required to steady the nerves and tone up the flagging system.

Excellent advice unquestionably, but surely as applicable to the man and the woman on the farm and to the small town or village merchant or worker as to the denizens of the larger centres.

As a matter of fact the former to-day are probably in greater need of the recuperative benefits of change of scene than are the latter for the very good reason that no one has sustained a continuous barrage of hard knocks and trying conditions more than the man on the land and his family who have withstood a tremendous and prolonged siege against the combined forces of economic and agricultural depression.

The farmer and his wife and the occupants of the small towns and villages have been the shock troops of a terrific encounter with overwhelming forces for a long period. They have been the closest to the conflict and have borne the brunt of the fray for a term of weary years.

No one can undergo such a lengthy strain without feeling some deleterious effects on the nervous system and the physical frame and it would be more than surprising if tempers have not become frayed and health, if not visibly impaired, at least threatened under such an ordeal.

Such being the case, it is not at all amiss to suggest that the time has come when the workers on the prairies should plan to take a well earned holiday this summer, even if it has to be limited to a week. True, it may be difficult to arrange for the necessary care for livestock and other things which must be provided for in the absence of the family from home, but such obstacles can usually be overcome with a little ingenuity and planning.

Objection might also be raised that it costs money to go away on a vacation and that there is so little of this commodity available as a result of the pressure of economic conditions of the past few years. Perfectly true, but here again the difficulty is not insuperable, except perhaps in extreme cases for, under present day circumstances it is possible to contrive a holiday with very little expense.

For the majority of prairie residents the conveyance problem is already solved. There are few who do not either own or can get the use of a car or truck, even though it may be of ancient vintage; and where these are not available there is at least a wagon and team.

A car and a tent or a truck or wagon and tarpaulin available, the twin problem of transport and temporary housing are solved. As for the question of sustenance this also is not difficult of solution on the prairies in the summer time. Some comestibles can be carried along on the trip and others can be procured from small town merchants and farm houses at not greater cost than if they were purchased at home.

About the only additional expense of such a holiday trip is the cost of gasoline and oil, if auto or truck is used, and this can be kept within reasonable limits if the vacationist curbs the temptation to travel long distances and burn up road mileage at great speed. One does not have to go far from home to find new and interesting things and the leisurely pace is the one that affords the most beneficial results.

Such a holiday should yield dividends in improved mental and bodily health and it may be made to give educational returns to all members of the participating family. The alert vacationist will inevitably pick up some idea on such a tour which he can put to practical use on his return home. Contact with new minds will invariably result in broadening the outlook on life and incidents and scenes will be absorbed and cherished later. Incidentally, and as an aside, a camera, if one is available, may be made a valuable adjunct to a vacation trip.

Much more might be said about the virtues and values of a holiday. Suffice it to say that the man and his family who take a little time off for a change of scene and use the time sensibly will reap dividends that cannot be estimated in dollars and cents.

Early planning, too, has its advantages. Apart from the pleasure of anticipation it will provide, planning ahead will ensure proper provision against contingencies and enable the adventure to be taken with peace of mind, an important concomitant of a real vacation.

Perfect Courtesy

A certain middle-aged spinster has a vivid memory of Texas courtesy. She was struggling with a hot cup of coffee in a small-town railway station, trying to gulp it before the train pulled out. A cowboy, seated a couple of stools away, noted her plight, and seeing the guard waving to the woman, came to the fore. "Here, ma'am, you can take my cup o' coffee. It's already sauced and blowed."

To Make The Sale

We honestly don't believe this little story, but the lady who told it to us swears it really did happen up on Madison avenue where the lady was looking at dresses. She found one with lines that pleased her but she was doubtful about the color. "I wonder if it will clash with this coat?" she said to the assistant. "Absolutely, madam," the girl said. "I'm sure it will clash beautifully!"

Speed Limit Of Planes

Only 575 Miles An Hour With Present Wing Design

With the present design of wings, airplanes will be limited to a speed of about 575 miles an hour, Dr. George W. Lewis, director of research of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, showed at a special meeting of the Institute of the Aeronautical Sciences that was held in the New York Museum of Science and Industry in Rockefeller Center. At this speed Dr. Lewis said—and he showed motion pictures to prove the point—the sustaining flow of air over the top of the wing suddenly breaks away in a "shock wave" and the airplane loses all its lift.

Famous Diamond Polished

Koh-i-Noor Taken From Buckingham Palace For Regular Cleaning

The Koh-i-Noor, the most famous diamond in the world, has just had its annual bath. A dapper little man drove up to Buckingham Palace in London. Five minutes later he emerged with two plainclothes policemen. They jumped into the waiting taxicab and drove off to Commercial Road E. There the famous jewel was placed in the hands of one of the greatest experts in the washing and polishing of diamonds. Later in the same day the Koh-i-Noor was taken back to its safe near the Queen's bedroom.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of fluid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk. A mere bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of a calomel but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c

Killed By Peculiar Accident

Visitor To Australia Victim Of Vicious Shell Fish

Stung by the beautiful but vicious cone shell of the coral reefs, a visitor to the Barrier Reef, on the Queensland Coast of Australia, has died in agony. He is the first white person to meet death in this way. The victim picked up a live specimen of the shellfish, which is covered with a thin skin. Holding it in his hand, he commenced to scrape it with a knife, when it thrust out its barbed spike and punctured his palm. Some time later he complained that his eyesight was failing. Subsequently he lapsed into a coma and exhibited all the symptoms of snake bite. He was rushed to the mainland, but died soon afterwards.

Men Had Swift Ride

Australians Sure Stream-Liner Train Could Not Compete With Whale

Riding on a streamlined train has nothing on that at the end of a rope attached to an angry whale. This is the opinion of W. Edwards and J. Eeley, fishermen of Goff's Harbor, Australia. While they were fishing near Goff's Harbor the anchor of their launch fouled a large whale, which started off at about a mile a minute, both men holding grimly to the madly-careening craft. Fearing that the whale might dive any second and wag the boat with it, Edward worked forward and cut the rope, freeing the boat.

New To Science

Australian University Has Three Animals From New Guinea

Three specimens of animals brought from an island off the northwest coast of New Guinea to Professor Wood Jones, of Melbourne (Australia) University, had to be introduced to science. Two are only carcasses but the third, a lively ball of white fur, keeps itself daintily alive on banana passion-fruit, biscuits, milk and honey, and an occasional paw-paw or carrot. It is a small marsupial, with some slight similarity to a rare species in the tropical part of Australia. 2143

Temperature: 425 degrees F. Time: 25 minutes.

- 1/2 cup "Crown Brand" Corn Syrup
- 1 pint jar cherries (canned)
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 cup boiling water
- 1 tablespoon butter
- Tea biscuit batter

Drain cherries and pour juice in a saucepan. Add the water, sugar and "Crown Brand" Corn Syrup. Boil 5 minutes. While the syrup is boiling make an ordinary tea biscuit batter and roll it out in oblong roll. Spread the cherries over the dough; sprinkle with cinnamon, dot with butter and roll up like jelly roll. Place the roll in an oblong pan; pour the hot syrup over it and bake in a hot oven.

Punished For Eight Weeks

Flying License Suspended When British Pilot Broke Regulations

What is believed the first case in England of an aviator having his flying license suspended has been meted to Pilot Officer B. R. Ker, of South Wood, who made a solo flight from Newcastle to Oslo, Norway, and back in 11 hours five minutes. The flight was made in secrecy. Ker left Woolston Airport without passing through any Customs formalities. As this was a breach of regulations, the Air Ministry was obliged to take some form of action, but in recognition of Ker's enterprise and the value of his achievement, that action was applied in the mildest possible form, a withdrawal of his flying license for eight weeks.

Cost Of Living

Slight Decline Is Reported By Bureau Of Statistics

The Canadian cost of living index, on the basis 1926 equals 100, declined from 80.7 in January to 80.4 in February, as a result of a moderate recession in food prices, the Dominion bureau of statistics reported. The food index was 72.9 against 73.9 in January.

Increases in eggs, butter, lard and pork were more than offset by declines in all other meats and potatoes.

Coal and coke prices were slightly higher, as were also those for gasoline.

Necessity Is Shown For Improving Quality of Barley Grown In Western Canada

Further stress was laid at the National Barley Committee's meeting in Toronto recently on the necessity of improving the condition of western Canada barley before it could achieve popularity in the east. Tests made on the prairies showed farmers knew little of what varieties they were producing, it was reported.

W. E. Blakeman, district seed inspector for the Dominion department of agriculture, at Winnipeg, said samples of seeds taken from seed drills of farmers disclosed that more than 50 per cent. of the samples were barley in the rejected grades.

In his report as chairman of the sub-committee on marketing, T. G. Major, of the department of trade and commerce, said the principal outlets were for malting and feed barley, though complaints had arisen regarding the presence of wild oats and other weed seeds.

Prof. R. G. Knox, of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, said if growers in the west wanted a better eastern market for barley, they would have to send out a product free of weed seeds. The great prevalence of weed seeds in western barley was a serious handicap to its sale to Ontario hog-raisers as feed.

Prof. Knox said he was not aware of any cereal grain that would give quality of finish in a hog, better color of fat and firmness of finish, so well as barley. In Denmark, Great Britain, South Africa, and other hog-raising countries, barley was regarded as the best of all grains for hogs.

An average of 73 per cent. of Canada's total barley production in the last five years was fed to livestock on Canadian farms, said a report submitted by W. R. White, chief of the feed division of the Dominion department of agriculture's seed branch. Corn, the report said, was barley's chief competitor.

What was required particularly for barley, was more educational effort concerning its merits as feed and better salesmanship in its behalf. The weak content in western barley was a serious handicap to its ready sale, Mr. White said.

Horses Bring High Prices

Keen Bidding By United States And Ontario Buyers

Farm horses, which reached a low market value during the depression years, are coming back in the picture to-day and commanding high prices with United States and Ontario buyers keen bidders at rural sales.

Some United States buyers have paid as high as $600 for heavy work teams, and prices, generally, are ranging around $350 a team.

At the Lacombe, Alberta, sales 308 horses brought $25,810, an average of $83, making a new high since 1928. Last year the Lacombe average was $68. The highest price was paid by A. Picov, of Audley, Ont., whose agent purchased a team for $387. Stewart brothers, of Montreal, paid $340 for a team.

Evidence of the demand for horses was provided in an auction sale at Galt, Ont., of 34 western farm animals of good quality that netted over $4,800, with a top price of $435 for a pair of geldings. Buyers came from all over the district, with many animals going to the Niagara peninsula.

Cost Estimated $5,000,000

Seed wheat requirements for Saskatchewan farmers unable to supply their own is tentatively set at approximately 3,500,000 bushels. Entire costs of seeding operations that will have to be financed by the provincial government is estimated at $5,000,000, which sum includes seed wheat and oat purchases, seed feed grain and tractor fuel distribution.

Seems A Bit Queer

Two Englishmen Mentioned In News Are Rather Unusual

Two unusual Englishmen were mentioned in the news of Old Country papers recently. They were Charles Cruft and Charles Brown. Probably the names don't mean anything to you but they may interest you.

Charles Cruft is Cruft of Cruft's Dog Show. Mr. Cruft begun promoting dog shows more than 50 years ago and from a very small beginning Cruft's has grown to be the biggest dog show in the world. The elite of British dogdom is entered at Cruft's and if there are any new breeds of dogs developed—which quite frequently happens in some part of the world—they are first publicly seen at Cruft's. This month's show had over 10,000 entries.

The queer thing about Charles Cruft is that he hasn't a dog of his own.

Charles Brown is the carver at Simpson's restaurant in the Strand, London. That's the place where "the roast beef of Old England" is tasted at its best. Mr. Brown does the carving in the main dining room. A man may appear before you trundling almost half an ox on a wagon, you choose the piece you want and have it sliced off. If you want two or three more helpings there is no extra charge. But Mr. Brown cuts such generous portions that customers seldom ask for another, but he does say that in the good old days the trenchermen would ask for four or five "follows." His record carve in one day is 544 plates. There is an art in decorating a plate, says he. There should be one big slice in the centre and the smaller slices and trimmings built around it.

And here's the queer thing about Charles Brown. He doesn't do the carving at home. It was his 78th birthday recently, and as a special favor his wife let him carve for the part.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

Strictly Self-Supporting

Arkansas Farmer Gets Along On Live-At-Home Program

Lee Horton, 53, has been farming on sixty acres of land in Searcy County for the last forty years, and he has never bought a sock.

But Horton does not go sockless. He keeps a flock of sheep, clips the wool, and wears homespun socks the year round.

Pursuing his live-at-home program to the limit, Horton says he always manages to have a patch of wheat, a field of corn, some sorghum, keeps several hives of bees, a few hogs, and has never bought during those forty years, in addition to socks, any meal, sorghum molasses, bacon or tobacco.

A tobacco user all his life, Horton raises his own, and has 2,000 twists of homespun put away and enough weed on hand for an extra thousand twists when needed.

Horton declares he started his live-at-home program early in life, not as a matter of necessity, but for convenience. He recalls that his family of five children always have had plenty of everything.

"I am sorry that my forty-year record is not perfect," Horton says. "My record was spoiled during the drought a few years ago," he explains. "I didn't do so well with my hogs and had to buy a bucket of lard to tide us over that year."

Canadian Cereals Popular

Canadian cereal foods find their way to breakfast tables in many parts of the world, according to a report on the prepared breakfast foods and other cereal products industry in Canada. During 1934 exports of cereal foods from Canada amounted to $3,226,576, of which over 95 per cent. went to the United Kingdom.

Bread does not lose its vitamin B in the course of baking, tests show.

Change With The Years

Anthropologist Claims Mouth, Ears And Nose Become Larger

Indirect proof of the adage that women talk more than men, Dr. Ales Hrdlicka, famous anthropologist, said he found female mouths are larger than those of men of the same height.

For many years Dr. Hrdlicka has studied variations in facial measurements in all parts of the world. He has examined whites, negroes, Indians and even the remote Eskimos.

He found that as one grows older the ears get larger, the nose becomes longer and broader and the mouth gets wider. That is why you may see an old friend who has been out of your life for years and exclaim: "Well, you know you've changed somehow, but I can't say just where." In themselves the changes would not be significant but in relationship to other features they may distort the entire remembered picture.

His findings showed that "both the nasal breadth and length increase during adult life with age, but the increase in breadth exceeds somewhat that in length." Ears, he said, showed a greater increase in length than in breadth. The effect of aging is even more noticeable on the mouth than on the nose and ears, he found.

Dr. Hrdlicka found that the breadth of the nose increased as he shifted from cold to hot climates.

Argentina Fights Locusts

Trapped In Trenches They Are Converted Into Fertilizers

Locusts, famous for their great damage to crops in many parts of the world, are to benefit the soil in Argentina. There the government's agricultural agency is converting the dead insects into fertilizers. Argentina is using it at home and hopes to export large amounts to the United States. About 4,500 tons of locusts have been gathered, dried and ground into locust meal fertilizer in 1935. The campaign of gathering locusts is now on. Long fences of sheet iron plates, too high for the insects to jump over, have been built in Northern Argentina. The "hoppers" strike the barrier and fall into trenches from which they are gathered and shipped to the grinding plants.

Provides Work For Blind

The blind of Italy have been given a monopoly by the government for the manufacture and sale to municipalities and city governments of brass dog licenses. Italy boasts of having the fewest blind beggars in Europe because it makes provisions for earning their living. There are several other artisan industries in which only the blind may be engaged in Italy.

Japanese State-man Adds To List By Question To Assassins

Did you read the story in the press about the old Japanese statesman who, on being aroused from his sleep by assassins, had three bullets fired into him and, still standing erect and facing his murderers, asked derisively: "What are you trying to do?"

This question reproached them for their bungling. More efficient assassins would have made such a question unnecessary. The officer in command of the murder squad drew his sword and cut the old statesman down.

The cablegram states that this officer was evidently enraged by the question asked him by the old man as he quietly looked death in the face, but more probably he sought a quick finish to a painful business.

Among the famous last words of eminent men the question this old statesman addressed to his murderers must henceforth take high rank. The Japanese are a people with whom the world must reckon. The composure with which they accept death is almost peculiar to them. As a race they seem desirous of remaining distinct from the rest of mankind, and time alone will determine whether co-operation with the western world will ever be feasible.—Toronto Star.

A Valuable Asset

National Parks Good Medium To Attract Tourist Trade

The importance to Canada of her tourist trade is well recognized and in this respect the National Parks administered by the Department of the Interior operate as a medium through which the peoples of other countries may be attracted to the Dominion. The measure of success attending the efforts of the National Parks Service for the past 20 years in developing the National Parks has resulted very largely in increasing the volume of Canada's tourist business, and in this way has placed these great scenic playgrounds in a foremost position in the economic life of the country.

"Daddy, why don't you buy Grandma an air rifle for her birthday next week?"

"Air rifle? Grandma doesn't want an air rifle!"

"I know, but you know how good she is about lending her things."

"Goldfields, Lake Athabasca, has the possibility of becoming the greatest gold field in the world."

"I am informed on the very best of authority there will have to be a railroad built into that district."

D. A. ("Dick") Hall was speaking in the Saskatchewan legislature, telling about the country he has lived in so long and knows so well, Saskatchewan's great northland.

"There is no such thing as a depression up there," he said. "That's why I am so glad to get home every time I go back."

He told of a gold rush of "major proportions" that would start in the spring, a rush that "would be watched by the eyes of the world."

He told of spending some weeks in New York at Christmas time, of meeting many wealthy men who knew a lot and wanted to learn more about Lake Athabasca.

"The most conservative mining company in America to-day," he said, "is now building a 500-ton mill at Goldfields and there is no doubt now the mill will be greatly enlarged."

Goldfields, he said, was unique. It was not so much the strikes were rich in gold, but the fact strips of land "hundreds of feet wide and thousands of feet long" had been proven to be rich in gold, ensuring the mine would be "good for hundreds of years."

Only briefly did the member from the northland touch on the east side of the province. He said 90 per cent. of the great Flin-Flon mine was in Saskatchewan and that within a very few years Saskatchewan would be drawing a revenue of $200,000 a year from that mine alone. Another mine only a few miles west of Flin-Flon would be in production in the coming summer.

"What the north needs," he said, "is prospectors and more prospectors." He asked the government to establish schools of mineralogy in the larger centres of the province. He also asked the government to strain every possible point in providing roads and any means of transportation for the thousands who would try to get into the north and assist in the development of the country. Just as earnestly he warned against those who, because they had secured claims of unknown value, would attempt to form companies and unload stock on the public. "No mine is a mine until it is proven a mine," he added to his warning.

Canada's Maple Sugar Trees

Grow From Atlantic Ocean To Lake Of The Woods

There are some 70 varieties of maple trees found in the world—seven in Eastern Canada—but only one of the seventy yields sugar in commercial quantity states the Forest Service of the Department of the Interior. This is the famous hard or sugar maple which grows in Canada from the Atlantic to the Lake of the Woods and whose beautiful leaf is the Dominion's national emblem. About 95 per cent. of the maple products industry in Canada is at present confined to the St. Lawrence River valley.

To Preserve Harness

Good Oil Should Be Used Several Times A Year

Leather experts recommend harness oil made of neat's-foot oil; or a mixture of neat's-foot oil and tallow; or of neat's-foot oil, fish oil, and a little tallow. A little lampblack gives the desired color. They claim that petroleum oils tend to burn and crack the leather, and crank case oil is worse because of the gasoline it contains. Harness should be oiled at least every spring, and three or four times a year is better. If done before the spring and fall rains oiling will do much to preserve the leather.

Do This Wall Panel in Soft Colors

Household Arts by Alice Brooks

It Is Fascinating Needlework

PATTERN 5552

You'll find it fun to embroider this dainty Shepherdess—her adoring Shepherd and his sheep, which comprise as lovely a wall panel as one could imagine. You'll have somewhat the feeling of a painter as you work in the pastoral setting. Even an amateur needlewoman will be tempted to try her hand at this, it's so easy! Use wool, cotton, or silk floss, and do keep the colors soft!

In pattern 5552 you'll find a transfer pattern of a wall hanging 15 x 20 inches; material requirements; illustrations of all stitches needed; color suggestions.

To obtain this pattern send 20 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to Household Arts Dept., Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 175 McDermott Ave. E., Winnipeg.

Postmasters and Patronage

A recent bill introduced by O. L. Boulanger, liberal member for Belchasse, Que. for the purpose of removing the outside Civil Service, including most Dominion employees outside of Ottawa from the jurisdiction of the Civil Service Commission, was viewed with dismay by all Civil Servants but particularly by the country, village and small-town postmasters. Under previous governments this class of employee suffered particularly in Quebec and the Maritime provinces and even some in the other provinces also. Mr. Veniot, Postmaster General in the previous King Government, set a very bad example and was followed by Mr. Sauve, Postmaster General of the Bennett government who although he promised to abolish the spoils or patronage system, found the pressure from those who wanted jobs too great for him and during his term of office he equalled, if not exceeded, the previous record set by Mr. Veniot.

Under these circumstances it was only natural that a change in government again caused much perturbation amongst the Post Offices in Eastern Canada particularly and the Dominion Secretary of the Canadian Postmasters' Association, Mr. C. D. Griffith, accompanied by Col. E. J. White, postmaster of Bathurst N.B. interviewed the Hon. J. C. Elliott very shortly after his appointment to the cabinet. They were pleasantly surprised to find a new type of man holding the office of Postmaster General who had already refused to dismiss small country postmasters wholesale without any charges being laid against them, or without the accused being able to defend themselves against any political charges which might have been made by those desirous of obtaining their positions.

Since that time Mr. Elliott has gallantly carried on his fight, with the result that very few postmasters have resigned or been dismissed and there is a greater sense of security in the Postal Service today than has ever been known before.

If the Hon. Mr. Elliott can stick with his guns and withstand the pressure there is no doubt that he will have done a great act and his name will ever be remembered in the Postal Service as the man who killed patronage. The Postal Service is, without doubt, the greatest business in Canada entering intimately into the lives of every citizen, and the disrupting effect on this great business machine can readily be understood when over 800 postmasters lost their positions after each change of government and were replaced by inexperienced men.

The entire $160,000,000 public debt of Alberta is likely to be refunded within the next 90 days, Premier Aberhart said last Thursday. "The treasury department is working on it now," he said, "but there probably won't be any announcement for a little while yet." Many of the bond and debenture issues now outstanding call for payment of interest during the next three months, he noted. "And we want to arrange refunding of each issue on its interest date."

Weekly News Letter

from Edmonton.
By T. B. WINDROSS

EDMONTON, Alberta.—The first session of Alberta's eighth legislature prorogued during the past week after nine weeks of strenuous work and after placing on the statute books of the province 108 new laws and amendments to present acts.

Following the end of the session the Social Credit members held a 3 or 4-session caucus, during which a summary of the legislation was considered before the members left for home. It was stated all the Creditor members are on call for another caucus in case one is needed before leaving the members of the legislature in all parties drew their indemnities of $1,800 each, amounting in the aggregate to nearly $114,- 000.

During the present week both Premier Aberhart and Hon. E. C.
Manning left for Vancouver, the former for a 2-weeks' holiday and the latter on his honeymoon. Mr.
Manning's wedding day was Tuesday.

During the early part of the week
D. M. Duggan, Conservative leader, predicted a break in Social Credit ranks at no far distant date. He said it was obvious during the latter days of the session that a leftist and rightist division was developing in the government party. It became more evident each day that various members were thinking for themselves more and more on questions of legislation.

It did seem at times, when legislation that had not been caucused was before the house, that some of the government supporters had views more independent than is usual with a political party in power. But how far the predictions of Mr. Duggan may be true is not clear. The Premier himself denied there was anything like left and right wings to the Social Credit party in the legislature.

Exemption of 15 cent single or aggregate purchases from the 2% ultimate purchasers' sales tax was given by the legislature near the close of the session, when the bill providing for this tax was passed.
It is estimated that the revenue from this source will be about $2,- 000,000.

Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works, announced that the province hoped a beginning may be made this year on a 5 year program to hard surface or pave 1,000 miles of provincial highways. In reply to a question asked by J. J. Bowlen, Liberal, Mr. Fallow said, "It is the policy of the government to complete its road program over a period of five years and we hope to get it underway this year."

Speculation ran rife as the close of the session drew near, as to what had become of the Alberta Basic Dividend Society, under the leadership of A. Shandro, who had declared several times before the session that he was going to lead delegations numbering hundreds to the Legislative Buildings to demand their basic dividends. No sign of these demonstrators was seen and Mr. Shandro has now explained that it has been decided to postpone the event until Premier Aberhart has had ample time to fulfill his promises. That sounds like a Gilbert and Sullivan situation and the government will have to wait full 18 months now before it sees Mr. Shandro leading his dividend-demanders to the assault.

It was stated during the week once more by members of the cabinet that the government will redeem provincial savings certificates in needy cases, "if they are not too high." Hon. E. C. Manning made the statement that the government will make every effort to redeem all certificates as quickly as possible.
Payment on these certificates was suspended by the U.F.A. government before it left office last August.

The right of farmers who are in difficulties to apply to the debt adjustment board for assistance in effecting adjustments of liabilities was not disturbed in the bill passed by the legislature to repeal the Agricultural Stabilization Act. Under this act it will be the duty of the board to assist every resident farmer who makes such request for aid in making out proposals for adjustment or arrangements for his indebtedness under the Farmers Creditors Arrangements Act, or any similar act of the dominion parliament. The board may provide the farmer with such legal or other assistance as he may require.

At the last minute before prorogation a change was made in the new provincial act providing for compulsory refunding of the province's public debt. The amendment made it possible for the debt to be refunded in part or as a whole and for the bill to be proclaimed either in part or in whole.

Premier Aberhart stated this week that the treasury department is now working on plans for refunding the province's debt within ninety days, but no definite announcement is likely to be made yet.

"Many of the bond and debenture issues now outstanding call for payment of interest during the next three months," the premier said,
"and we want to arrange refunding of each issue on its interest date."

Liberal quarters are considering seriously the selection of a member to succeed Mr. Justice Howson, who resigned his seat in the legislature on being elevated to the bench. So far several names have been mentioned prominently: R. C. Marshall, E. C. Fisher, Dr. Walter Morrish,
Mrs. Marion Conroy, S. Staveley
Kerr, Lieut.-Col. G. B. McLeod,
J. C. McDonald, K. C., H. H. Parlee, K. C., and Nelles V. Buchanan.

Conservatives will not place a candidate in the field, unless there is an open fight with other parties running candidates. Should the Liberals be granted an acclamation for the seat there will be no effort to prevent it by his party, stated
D. M. Duggan.

The Board of Governors of Mount Royal College are planning this month to celebrate the 25th anniversary of the College. The celebration program will begin April 23 with a public gathering in the auditorium of the College, to be followed by a reception in the dining hall. In order that former students may have a part in the celebration a committee of the alumni is arranging a reunion and social evening on the Friday or Saturday following the public reception.

HOW'S YOUR STOMACH?

YOU lose vital nerve force if you allow your stomach to distress you. Acid stomach, indigestion, gas or biliousness, and "constitiveness" cause the blood to be poisoned and will eventually destroy health and nerve force. This is what Clarence House of St. Main St., 2nd Floor, Toronto, Ont., said: "I had no pep, had to force myself to eat, and after eating, I would belch gas and suffer from indigestion and heartburn. I had sour stomach quite a bit too. I used Dr. Fieser's Golden Medical Discovery and it toned up my system so that I felt like a different man. The 'Discovery' helped to drive away the stomach distress and gave me an appetite." New size, tablets 50c., liquid $1.00 and $1.55.

FLEMING'S FOLLY

— BY —
LAWRENCE A. KEATINGE

A muscle quirked in Hamilton's cheek as again he failed to hold the rancher's steady gaze and shifted with some uneasiness in his chair. He looked at beefy Roper Kilgo on his right, thence at tall, red-headed Jackpot Mell. Following his eyes, Link felt keen apprehension that things were going all wrong for Buzz had fallen among the very companions he should have avoided.

"Wal, Link," Kilgo boomed boisterously. "I hear yo're borrowed up to yore neck for that crazy irrigation scheme. Otto Pieper turned yuh down, o' course?"

The statement came in the form of a question. Fleming summoned a careless grin. "If yuh know, Roper, why ask me?"

"Course he turned yuh down," growled the lynx-eyed Mell. "So yo're busted, eh, Fleming? Busted, sky high!" he jibed in grating tones. "That's tough, ain't it, boys? It's just too—bad!"

Fleming's eyes hardened. "Well, Jackpot," he returned in a controlled tone, "I'd sure know better than to ask you for money if I did need it."

"If yuh did need it? Say, if yuh don't need it, I'm a cross-eyed buzzard!"

"Then it might interest you to know," Link retorted crisply, "that I don't need money right now!"

Mell started, his face coloring with wrath. For the nuance of his own speech had been twisted to make him a "cross-eyed buzzard." "Yuh callin' me names?" he rasped darkly.

The Star Loop owner checked resentful anger that welled up his throat, his face hot. "I called you nothing." Turning to Buzz, he placed a comradely hand on his shoulder. "Shall we be on our way, oldtimer? Helen will be tickled when you slide off yore hoss an' grab her in yore arms!"

The taut silence that answered him was disconcerting. Of a sudden Hamilton sent his chair scraping backward as he rose. The prison pallor of his haggard countenance seemed to assume a bluish shade against fire flashing in the newcomer's eyes. His whole thin frame trembled with rage that that fought for expression and he shook a skinny fist close under Fleming's nose.

"I'm onto yore game, you low-down skunk!" he cried in a quavering voice of almost maniacal fury. "I'm onto yore tricks, getting me paroled. Talkin' my sister into throwin' away our Triple H on that lousy irrigation scheme only a fool'd take on. I'm onto you, Fleming! And by Gawd, I won't stand for it. Savvy that?"

The Star Loop owner stepped back, his jaw dropping in genuine amazement. "What are you talkin' about, Buzz?" he demanded. "Why, say, I—" He became conscious of the smell of whisky, raw whisky and plenty of it, and he scowled, scrutinizing the man's contorted face.

Roper Kilgo and his cronies had deliberately, maliciously stuffed Buzz with misinformation about the Silver Creek project. Why? The answer came instantly. The florid Kilgo was eaten with apprehension lest Link, after all, make a success of the irrigation project on which Roper had betrayed him at that Trailend Hotel meeting last fall—and use the very land Kilgo had lost in a poker game to prove what water would do.

Also, there was Roper's attentiveness to Helen Hamilton. His clumsy compliments, his eyes following her every movement with an absorbed relish Link did not like to see. Before her return from Ohio, Roper considered himself the only contender of importance for her hand. Now—and the thought made Link's pulse speed—she seemed to favor him.

"Got me paroled to make a hit with Helen—yuh know darned well I ain't allowed to manage the spread!" Eyes aflame, Buzz advanced threateningly. "While yuh keep me from my rights, yuh soft soap my sister to beat us out of everything we own. By God," he cried. "I'll kill yuh!"

With quickness astonishing in one of his prison-worn appearance, the maddened man hurled himself forward, jabbing with open hands to choke his victim.

Fleming was caught off guard. Hard fingers sank cruelly into the flesh of his neck. Instinct made him seek the sixgun on his hip; but he desisted, and with both strong hands tore away the other's fingers. His grasp slid to Buzz's wrists and with a quick, powerful wrench he sent him staggering. Hamilton slipped, fell, and went crashing into chairs grouped around a vacant card table.

Roper Kilgo, Jackpot Mell, and several other men stiffened angrily. The two cronies stood alert to snatch their Colts, glaring. "Let that kid alone!" snarled Mell, a dangerous light in his beady eyes.

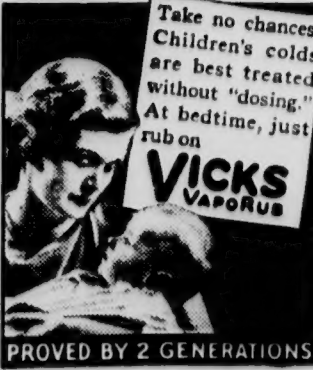

Link stood panting, feeling of his neck. He did not fear their forty-fives despite the saloon owners' reputation as a killer. His gaze travelled over the trio, took in three or four other tense patrons of the Half Moon, and roved to Gus, the pink-faced bartender, whose china-blue eyes were dilated in astonishment.

Fleming strode to Hamilton and helped him to his feet. "I'm shore sorry, Buzz," he said in a low, vibrant tone. "The fact is, you got me all wrong. Silver Creek Dam is going to help your spread as much as mine. Helen isn't in danger from me. You aren't either."

The other jerked himself free. He panted wheezingly while he reached for a whisky bottle and poured a stiff drink. Link's impulse was to stop him, but such a move would be certain to invite fresh wrath. He stood motionless with indecision.

Roper planted himself squarely before Fleming. "I advise yuh to clear outa here pronto. Guess yuh'll claim yuh didn't know I figgered to get Buzz pardoned so he'd have his legal rights? S'pose you didn't hurry up and head me off while you make a hit with Helen on this parole stuff that don't do Buzz no good at all?"

The Star Loop owner's jaw dropped. "You get Buzz pardoned?"

Roper put his arm around Hamilton's shoulders in a brotherly gesture. "Think I'll stand by idle while yuh work yore game on a helpless gal? I was goin to fix it with the Governor so's Buzz could be here to protect his property!"

Link stiffened. "Helen Hamilton came in with me of her own free will. There's no game being worked, and you know it. That dam is going to make every other spread in Boone County look like thirty cents—yours included, Kilgo!"

His eye narrowed. "Yeah? Let me tell yuh somethin'. Heavy rains lately have darned near flooded the cut-off. If that water comes on my spread, I'll sue yuh for damages!"

This was indeed a possibility, of which Link was uneasily aware. It was part of his reason for being anxious to complete the dam within the next two or three days.

"It's a crazy scheme," scoffed Jackpot Mell. "Trying to irrigate no-good land! Fleming's Folly—yeah, that's a good name. Not a man in Boone County believes in it. How about you, Seth?" he demanded of Howland, the veteran Texas trail driver. "Is Fleming's Folly gonna turn out?"

"Wal, no, I don't reckon 'tis," Howland replied candidly.

"You, Benson?"

Mat scratched his ear. "Don't like to discourage yuh, Link, but it shore looks to me like yo're plumb loco, pourin' all yore money in a looney proposition like that."

Other men expressed their lack of faith, but Fleming had heard all this so often before that he paid little heed. His eyes were on young Hamilton, gulping down drink after drink of whisky. Somehow he had to get the youth away, take him home.

"Buzz," he suggested at last, "let's get going. You've been poisoned against me without hearin' my side. Thing I want is to have you surprise Helen. She's thought about you every hour in the day, Buzz," he went on in a low tone. "Prayed for you every night. She's plumb anxious to see you, son!"

Warned to the sentimental stage by liquor, Hamilton seemed to be fighting back tears. Fear of shaming himself before all these men prompted him to move slowly toward the swinging doors. Link waited until he thrust them aside; then the rancher sent a cold, defiant look around the circle of faces and started after.

As they stepped onto the brief stoop that fronted the Half Moon, swift-thudding hoofs in velvety dust made both men look up. Surprise swept over Fleming's face as he saw Helen, her Stetson tugging at its chin strap about her graceful neck, her brown hair flying in the breeze, haul her lathered pinto to its haunches in a skidding stop, and fling excitedly from the saddle.

"Link!" she wailed, running toward him. "Oh, our eight hundred dollars—I've been robbed!"

Making Bid For Visitors

Manchoukuo Best Place To View
Eclipse In June

Manchoukuo is making a bid for those who wish to view the 1936 eclipse. "Manchoukuo is the best place in the world from which to view the total eclipse visible on June 19," says Dr. Issei Yamamoto, the famous astronomical expert of Kyoto Imperial University. According to the professor the line of the eclipse will rise from the Mediterranean Sea and advance into Siberia, passing through part of Turkey to the Caucasus and Central Asia, and thence to Lake Baikal along the Siberian railway line. Then it will again advance into Siberia along the Amur river and disappear in the Northern Pacific horizon, passing over Hak-kaido. The eclipse will be visible for about two minutes and 20 seconds. The government will assist visitors.

No Trouble To Finance

To finance seeing America on a horse, William Henderson found he needed only to show America the horse. When returned to Malta, Montana, from a trip to New Hampshire, the farmer said he paid his and his mount's way by selling their pictures.

Preparations

BEFORE you take any preparation you don't know all about, for the relief of headaches; or the pains of rheumatism, neuritis or neuralgia, ask your doctor what he thinks about it—in comparison with "Aspirin."

We say this because, before the discovery of "Aspirin," most so-called "pain" remedies were advised against by physicians as being bad for the stomach; or, often, for the heart. And the discovery of "Aspirin" largely changed medical practice.

Countless thousands of people who have taken "Aspirin" year in and out without ill effect, have proved that the medical findings about its safety were correct.

Remember this: "Aspirin" is rated among the fastest methods yet discovered for the relief of headaches and all common pains... and safe for the average person to take regularly.

"Aspirin" Tablets are made in Canada. "Aspirin" is the registered trade-mark of the Bayer Company, Limited. Look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every tablet.

Little Helps For This Week

I will lift up my eyes unto the hills from when cometh my help.
Psalm 121:1.

I look to Thee in every need,
And never look in vain;
I feel Thy touch Eternal Love,
And all is well again;
The thought of Thee is mightier far
Than sin and pain and sorrow are.

How can you live sweetly amid the vexations, the irritating things, the multitude of little worries and frets that lie all along your way and which you cannot evade? You cannot at present change your surroundings. Whatever kind of life you are to live must be lived amid the experiences in which you are now moving. Here you must win your victories or face your defeats. No restlessness or discontent can change your lot. Others may live among different surroundings, but here are yours. If you make up your mind to accept what you cannot alter, you can live a beautiful life in the midst of your present circumstances by striving to realize a state of inward happiness independent of them.

Playing Safe

"See here," said the Indian inspector, "it is a violation of the law to have more than one wife, and the law must be obeyed. When you get back home you tell all of your wives, except one, that they can no longer look upon you as their husband."

"You tell 'em," suggested the Indian, after a moments reflection.

Will the party who has been taking the buff chickens from a certain property in town, please be obliging enough to take the rooster next time they are around, as he is of not much account.

Word has been received here of the death on March 15th at Oliver, B.C., of Joseph G. Wilson in his 57th year. He resided in the Didsbury district for several years, moving to Oliver in 1921 where he made his home. He is survived by his wife and three daughters.

An interesting travel lecture was given the local Masons and their ladies in the Odd Fellows' Hall on Tuesday evening by Mr. Frank Williams, of Calgary. Mr. Williams showed four reels of moving pictures which he had taken himself on a trip from New York, through the Panama Canal to Chile and return via the western coast.
